1. Background

1.1 This document contains information and procedures on the transfer/sale of member's investment holdings under CPFIS-OA and CPFIS-SA in accordance with:

- (a) a Court Order made under Section 112 of the Women's Charter (Cap. 353) in proceedings for divorce, judicial separation or nullity of marriage under Part X of the Women's Charter; or
- (b) a Court Order made under Section 52(3)(d), (7) or (9) of the Administration of Muslim Law Act (Cap.3) in proceedings for divorce or nullity of marriage under Part III of the Administration of Muslim Law Act.

1.2 What is CPFIS-OA investment?

Investments under CPF Investment Scheme – Ordinary Account (CPFIS-OA) are bought using CPF Ordinary Account savings and sale proceeds will be refunded into the Investment Account held with the Agent Bank. The sale proceeds will only be transferred to CPF Ordinary Account from the Investment Account when the member gives instruction to his/her Agent Bank to effect the transfer via the Agent Banks' facilities such as ATMs, phone-banking facilities, and over the banks' counters. Otherwise the sale proceeds will automatically be transferred to the member's CPF Ordinary Account at the end of two months provided there are no investment transactions in the Investment Account for two consecutive months.

1.3 What is CPFIS-SA investment?

Investments under CPF Investment Scheme – Special Account (CPFIS-SA) are bought using Special Account savings and sale proceeds will be refunded to members' CPF Special Account directly without members having to give the instruction to do so.

2. Important Notes

2.1 In the case of sale/transfer of investment assets, there is a possibility that the ex-spouse may not receive the full value/quantity of investments specified in the Court Order because of external events that take place after the Court Order has been made, e.g. corporate actions such as capital reduction exercises which reduce the shareholdings of the member. In addition, some of the investments could have been sold or trading has been suspended in respect of the shares that are the subject of the Court Order; and parties may wish to apply to the Court for further directions in such a case.

2.2 All costs related to the sale/transfer of member's investments will be borne by the member, unless otherwise stated in the Court Order.

Transfer of investments

- 2.3 The ex-spouse may need to open an Investment Account and other account(s) that the relevant financial intermediaries may require, if he/she does not already have the necessary accounts, to enable the transfer to take place (please refer to Para 3.3 for a list of the various “financial intermediaries”).

Ex-spouse will not be eligible to open an Investment Account if he/she is:

- i) below 18 years old; or
- ii) not a CPF member.

- 2.4 If the ex-spouse is not eligible to open an Investment Account, a transfer of investment will not be possible. A workable alternative will be for the Court Order to indicate that the member’s investments to be sold instead and the sale proceeds to be transferred or paid to the ex-spouse.

- 2.5 For transfer of investments instructed by a Court Order, before the member approaches the financial intermediaries, he/she should have the following details to complete the Transfer Form at the financial intermediaries:

- i) Divorce Petition number;
- ii) Member’s and ex-spouse’s names and contact numbers;
- iii) Member’s and ex-spouse’s CPF Account numbers;
- iv) Member’s and ex-spouse’s Investment Account numbers and names of agent banks (where applicable);
- v) Name(s) of member’s investments bought under CPFIS–OA and/or CPFIS-SA to be transferred;
- vi) Name(s) of service/product provider(s) of each of the investments to be transferred; and
- vii) Quantities of each of the investments to be transferred.

- 2.6 In the event that member does not sign the Transfer Form or initiate the refund from his CPF Investment Account to his Ordinary Account, the ex-spouse may apply to the Court for the Registrar of Court to sign the Transfer Forms on behalf of the member. Please refer to Para 2.5 for the details required to complete the Transfer Forms.

- 2.7 After the investments are transferred to the ex-spouse, he/she will be subject to CPF Investment Scheme (CPFIS) rules (e.g. investments are subject to stock/gold limits) so as to ensure the ex-spouse’s retirement adequacy. When the ex-spouse sells the transferred investment, the sale proceeds will be credited to ex-spouse’s Ordinary and/or Special Accounts, where applicable. These sale proceeds will be subject to CPF rules and can only be withdrawn when the ex-spouse meets the withdrawal conditions under Section 15 and 27 of the CPF Act.

- 2.8 The ex-spouse will have to pay bank charges for the transferred investments she continues to hold in his/her Investment Account. Such charges can be paid using his/her Ordinary Account savings.

Sale of investments

- 2.9 For sale of investments instructed by a Court Order, after the member has sold the investments and effected the refund of the sale proceeds from his/her Investment Account to his/her CPF Ordinary Account, he/she needs the following details to submit the Notification Form available on CPF website using his/her Singpass:
- i) Divorce Petition number;
 - ii) Member's and ex-spouse's CPF Account numbers; and
 - iii) Amount to be transferred to ex-spouse's CPF account.
- 2.10 If the member does not sell the investments as ordered, and the investments are such that they cannot be sold without instructions being given personally by the member (as required by the financial intermediaries) the ex-spouse may request the Court Order to be varied to transfer member's investments to him/her instead. As this depends on the nature of the investments, it is prudent to make the necessary enquiries with the financial intermediaries concerned before obtaining the appropriate order.
- 2.11 For a summary of the steps to be taken to effect a sale or transfer, please see Paras 4 to 17.
