

CPF Contribution Alert

Introducing the CPF Contribution Alert

The CPF Contribution Alert is a notification service that informs you when your monthly CPF contributions are credited.

With it, you can conveniently verify:

- the wages declared; and
- the CPF contributions paid by your employer against your pay slip.

Receiving the CPF Contribution Alert is easy!

Select “Update” and fill in your contact details. You may also retrieve your contact details from Singpass.

You will receive an email when your CPF contributions are credited. Click on the “View” button to view your contribution details. To ensure that the email is legitimate, make sure that the link leads to a domain ending with “.gov.sg”.

Dear JOHN

Your January 2023 CPF contributions have been credited

The Employment Act¹ requires your employer to provide you with an itemised pay slip. You should verify the wages and CPF paid as declared by your employer against your pay slip.

If you have the CPF Mobile app installed², you will be able to view your details with greater assurance once you open the link directing you to the CPF Mobile app.

To protect your personal information, you will need to key your Date of Birth + Last 4 characters of your NRIC to view your CPF contribution details.

Link will expire on 31 Jan 2023

What should I do

if there are inaccuracies in my CPF contributions and/or wage details?

Please approach your employer immediately for clarification while documentary evidence is fresh, if there are any discrepancies. Your employer is expected to rectify the errors without delay.

CPF contributions not paid or underpaid:

Your employer must pay the full CPF contributions immediately.

CPF contributions overpaid:

Your employer must submit an adjustment or refund request immediately, and no later than one year from the payment date. You will be notified when the refund is made.

Wrong wages declared:

Your employer must inform CPF Board about the incorrect wage declaration and declare wages accurately in the future.

If your employer is not cooperative or does not provide you with a satisfactory response, please write to us for assistance.
