Annex A: Keynote speakers

The three keynote speakers will each deliver a presentation on 17 November 2026, followed by a joint Q&A panel discussion. Their keynote topics, profiles and the areas they can speak on are set out below.

Assoc. Prof Terence Ho

Keynote topic: Strengthening Social Security: Singapore's Experience

Terence Ho is Executive Director of the Institute for Adult Learning (IAL), Singapore University of Social Sciences. He is also an Adjunct Associate Professor in Practice at the Lee Kuan Yew School of Public Policy (LKYSPP), National University of Singapore. He currently serves as a Nominated Member of Parliament, a Board Member of the Singapore Civil Service College, and an expert member of the Chandler Institute of Governance Centre of Excellence on Public Finance and Stewardship.

Terence is the author of several books on public policy and governance, including Refreshing the Singapore System: Recalibrating Socio-Economic Policy for the 21st Century (World Scientific, 2021) and How Singapore Beat the Odds: Insider Insights on Governance in the City-State (World Scientific, 2025), a Straits Times bestseller. He has also written over a hundred opinion pieces for leading news media organisations in Singapore. In recognition of his contributions to public service, he was awarded the Public Administration Medal (Silver) by the President of Singapore in 2023.

Can speak on: Insights from Singapore's experience in strengthening social security systems, including key policy considerations in extending protection amid changing work arrangements and emerging social risks.

	Mr Andrew Reilly Keynote topic: How are Pensions Adapting to Rapid Ageing and Increasing Non-Standard Forms of Work Andrew Reilly is a pension analyst within the Social Policy Division in the Employment, Labour and Social Affairs Directorate of the Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD), which he joined in May 2007. He is currently responsible for managing the modelling of pension systems in OECD and EU countries, as well as those in the Asia-Pacific region. He is co-author of the biennial OECD Pensions at a Glance report and has contributed to numerous other OECD reports on pensions. He holds a BSc in Mathematics, Statistics and Operational Research from Queen's University Belfast and previously worked at the Northern Ireland Statistics and Research Agency. Can speak on: International perspectives on how pension systems are adapting to ageing populations and the rise of non-standard work, drawing on comparative insights across countries.

Mr Indrajid Nurmukti

Keynote topic: Beyond Pensions: Building Trust, Coverage and Sustainability in an Ageing ASEAN

Indrajid Nurmukti is Regional Coordinator /Head of Region for Asia, Arab countries, Oceania and the Pacific at the International Social Security Association (ISSA), based in Geneva. With more than 23 years of experience in social security, institutional development and international cooperation, he supports ISSA member institutions in strengthening social security, particularly in governance, innovation, service delivery and strategic partnerships.

Prior to joining ISSA, he held various leadership positions at BPJS Ketenagakerjaan, Indonesia's employment social security institution, contributing to major organisational transformation initiatives. He also served as Secretary General of the ASEAN Social Security Association (ASSA) from 2020 to 2021. He is an accredited international trainer and lecturer at the ITC-ILO, and has supported social security development projects across Asia, the Pacific and the Arab region. He holds several Bachelor's and Master's degrees in informatics, market research, communication and public policy.

Can speak on: Regional perspectives on how ASEAN social security systems are addressing trust, coverage and sustainability challenges amid an ageing population, broader demographic change, digital transformation and AI, as well as how regional and international platforms such as ASSA and ISSA support peer learning, innovation and knowledge exchange among social security institutions.