Cash payments are kept low at Class B2 and C

Singaporeans receive subsidies of up to 80% at subsidised wards (Class B2 and C).

MediShield Life and MediSave claim limits are generally sized to be sufficient for subsidised care.

What is claimable from MediShield Life and MediSave for my hospitalisation?<sup>3</sup>

Benefits include:

- Ward charges (including treatment fees, investigations and medications)
- Surgical procedure charges
- Implants

<sup>1</sup> Median cash amount based on 2021 transacted bills for Singaporeans. Cash amount is after government subsidies, MediShield Life and MediSave, excluding any Integrated Plan payout or third party such as employer benefits. Actual Cash payment may vary due to various reasons. These include variations in bill size due to complexity of treatment, differences in patient's subsidy eligibility and whether patient has enough MediSave.

<sup>2</sup> Bills for higher class wards (e.g. Private ward and A ward) will be pro-rated to the equivalent level of B2/C ward bill before MediShield Life payouts are computed.

<sup>3</sup> MediShield Life inpatient claims are subject to deductible and co-insurance.
